MATCH PREVIEW

Real Monarchs head South to Texas to take on San Antonio FC at Toyota Field on Wednesday, September 1. Kickoff is set for 6:30p MT and streamed live on ESPN+.

Records: Real Monarchs (4-11-4, 16 points); San Antonio FC (7-5-6, 27 points)

Head-to-Head: San Antonio FC has the advantage over Real Monarchs with an all-time record of 5-2-3 in 10 matches played, including a 3-0-2 record at Toyota Field. The previous match between the sides ended in a 1-1 draw at Zions Bank Stadium on Saturday, June 26.

Connections: San Antonio FC winger Sam Gleadle spent part of his youth career with Real Salt Lake in 2013. In addition, Gleadle was in the 18 for Reno 1868 FC in the 2018 USL Championship Western Conference Quarter-Finals in a 1-0 win over a Monarchs squad that featured James Moberg.

Notes: In what will be the 11th meeting between the two clubs, the Monarchs will look to earn its first-ever victory in San Antonio. Real Monarchs are 27-48-17 all-time on the road, while San Antonio FC is 45-12-25 all-time at home.

2021 GAME NOTES

LAST MATCH RECAP

Real Monarchs (4-11-4, 16 points) fell 2-0 to Indy Eleven at Michael A. Carroll Stadium.

The Real Monarchs began the match on the front foot, attacking the opposing net and earning a five to four advantage over the home side. After settling the match, Indy Eleven found their footing and pushed the Monarchs back onto their heels. On the counter in the 26th minute, Nick Moon sent a low cross into the center of the box toward Manuel Arteaga for the left-footed redirect goal to give Indy Eleven the 1-0 lead. Seconds before the final whistle of the first half, Gordon Wild earned a foul in the box and Arteaga beat Blake Kelly to head into the locker room with the 2-0 lead.

The Monarchs came out of the break intent to dig into the deficit. In the 49th minute, halftime substitute Seth Powder fired a ball across the front of goal towards Malik Johnson, but his left-footed shot missed just wide. The visitors almost broke through again in the 77th minute when Milan Iloski's corner found the head of Sam Brown, but his headed attempt bounced off the crossbar and out. The Monarchs continued to find chances at goal with a game-leading 18 shots and eight corners, but could not find the final pieces of the puzzle and the match ended 2-0 in favor of Indy Eleven.

LAST MEETING:

REAL MONARCHS 1, SAN ANTONIO FC 1; JUNE 26, 2021

LAST TIME VS OPPONENT

Real Monarchs (1-5-4, 7 points) drew 1-1 with San Antonio FC at Zions Bank Stadium on Saturday night, the second draw between the two sides this season. Douglas Martínez scored his first goal of the season for the Monarchs in the first half and Justin Dhillon recorded the game-tying goal in the second half for San Antonio FC.

Both sides started the first half with a flurry of chances, but the defenses stood strong. In the 39th minute, Martínez received the ball at the top of the box and fired a right-footed shot past the keeper to give the Monarchs the lead at the break.

In the second half, the game began to open up defensively for the Monarchs. Eventually, San Antonio FC found the equalizer on a goal from Dhillon in the 77th minute. Despite the home side looking likely to find a second, the San Antonio defense held and the match ended 1-1.

SEASON STORYLINES

Youngest Signings in Club History

The Real Monarchs will be featuring two of the youngest signings in club history in its seventh season. In January, Real Salt Lake signed RSL Academy product and Herriman City native Jeff Dewsnap. At 16-years-old the goalkeeper became the youngest signing in RSL history and the first-ever Herriman City native to sign for the club. The Monarchs then made 15-year-old Julio Benitez its youngest-ever signing when he signed with the team in March. The midfielder was also an RSL Academy stand-out.

Welcome in the Kiwis

In back-to-back months during the offseason the Monarchs signed the team's first-ever players from New Zealand. The first was 20-year-old forward Max Mata who arrived from Switzerland where he spent time with the second tier of Grasshopper, scoring five goals in 10 matches. The second was 24-year-old Kyle Adams from the Houston Dynamo FC where he appeared in 61 matches for Houston's USL Championship affiliate, Rio Grande Valley FC.

Columbian Trio

As the Monarchs continued to revamp its roster this offseason, the team signed three young players from Columbia. 21-year-old defender Kevin Saucedo signed with the Monarchs after spending the 2020 season with Colombian Categoria Primera A side Millonarios F.C. He represented Columbia in the 2019 FIFA U-20 World Cup. In January, the Monarchs signed its second Columbian of the offseason in Brayan Gomez. The 21-year-old midfielder played for CDC Atletico Nacional at the U-20 level in Columbia. Internationally, Gomez represented Columbia in the 2017 FIFA U-17 World Cup alongside his Real Monarchs teammate Juan Vidal. 20-year-old Vidal is the third Columbian on the roster this season who joins the club from CF Barranquilla.

Real Monarchs 2.0

2021 marks the beginning of the Real Monarchs 2.0, a new blueprint set by the front office to optimize the roster and promote opportunity and growth within the club. The Monarchs are shifting focus to signing promising young internationals and promoting heavily from the RSL Academy. With eight new international signings joining James Moberg, Sam Brown and Jimmy Slayton, there are now a lot of roster spots available for Academy products to see the pitch and make an impact. Headlined by Benitez, Academy youngsters are expected to make up almost a third of the roster this season.
