HEAD COACH GIOVANNI SAVARESE

In his fourth season leading the Timbers, head coach Giovanni Savarese is the only manager during the club's MLS-era to guide Portland to the MLS Cup Playoffs in each of his first four seasons at the helm. This season, Savarese set a new club record of wins in a single season with 17 victories.

Savarese, who has served as a head coach for nine career years, has made it to at least the semifinal round of a competitive tournament in all nine years as a professional manager.

In his first season with the club, Giovanni Savarese led the Timbers to 15 regular-season wins in 2018, tied for the third-most victories for a first-year head coach in MLS history. Under Savarese's guidance, the Timbers won their second Western Conference Championship and advanced to their second MLS Cup in 2018. Registering 18 wins overall including an impressive playoff run, Savarese became one of three head coaches since 2000 to register 18 or more wins, including playoffs, in their first year as a head coach in the league. He also became just the second head coach in the last 14 seasons to advance to MLS Cup in his first year in MLS. Savarese reached his 50th MLS creer win in a 1-0 against Vancouver on Sept. 10.

During the 2020 campaign, Savarese led the Timbers to 14-6-8 record across all competitions, including coaching the TImbers to a 2-1 win over Orlando City SC in the MLS is Back Tournament in Orlando, Fla., on Aug. 11, 2020. Notably, the match was Savarese's sixth final in eight years as a professional manager and his second final (2018, 2020) in three seasons with Portland. Appointed as the Timbers' head coach on Dec. 18, 2017, Savarese brings over 25 years of professional experience as a player and coach to the Timbers organization.

A native of Caracas, Venezuela, Savarese joined the Timbers after spending the previous five seasons as the head coach and sporting director of the New York Cosmos, where he developed one of the most successful clubs in the NASL, compiling a 65-26-44 record in 135 regular-season games, including a career-best 20-7-5 record in 2016 and an undefeated NASL Spring Season in 2015. Additionally, the Cosmos scored 223 goals during Savarese's five seasons at the helm, which rank as the most in the NASL during that stretch. Savarese also led the Cosmos to four Soccer Bowl appearances, claiming the 2013, 2015 and 2016 championships. Most recently, after a 10-7-15 record in the 2017 regular season, Savarese guided the Cosmos to their third straight appearance in the NASL championship match, narrowly falling 2-0 to the San Francisco Deltas.

Prior to joining the Cosmos organization, Savarese, who holds a U.S. Soccer Pro License – the highest soccer license recognized in North America and the peak of the U.S. Soccer coaching education pathway, served as the head of youth development for the New York MetroStars/Red Bulls from 2005-2007, before joining the Cosmos as the club's academy director in 2010, with a focus on developing youth talent in the greater New York area. Savarese served as the Cosmos academy director for two years before being announced as the head coach of the first Cosmos team in 28 years on November 19, 2012. Savarese enjoyed an 18-year professional playing career, including five seasons in Major League Soccer, scoring 159 goals in 322 games played in various leagues in the United States, Venezuela, Italy and England. At the international level, Savarese earned 30 caps for the Venezuela National Team from 1989-2001, scoring 10 goals, including a notable finish against South American rival Argentina in 1996.

PREVIOUS MATCH - PORTLAND TIMBERS VS COLORADO RAPIDS

MATCH RECAP

COMMERCE CITY, Colo. – In the Audi 2021 MLS Cup Playoffs Western Conference Semifinals, the No. 4 seed Portland Timbers defeated the No. 1 seed Colorado Rapids 1-0 at Dick's Sporting Goods Park on Thursday afternoon. Larrys Mabiala tallied the game winner in the 90th minute to help send Portland to the Western Conference Final for the fourth time in club history.

Timbers in Playoffs

In 22 all-time MLS playoff matches, the Timbers are 10-6-6 overall with a record of 6-4-2 on the road. With the win, it marks the fourth time (2013, 2015, 2018, 2021) in seven postseasons the Timbers have advanced to the Western Conference Final. Head coach Giovanni Savarese has gone to the playoffs in each of his four seasons with the club and is the only head coach in Portland's MLS era to record consecutive postseason appearances. Additionally, this will mark Savarese's second Western Conference Final with the club. Mabiala recorded a goal in a second straight playoff match, tallying his first career game winner. The Timbers will face the winner of the Western Conference Semifinal match between Sporting Kansas City and Real Salt Lake on Nov. 28. If Real Salt Lake advances, Portland will host the Western Conference Final at Providence Park.

Success in 2021

Portland recorded its 19th win across all MLS competitions (regular season and playoffs) in 2021, surpassing the club's 18 total wins during the 2015 and 2018 campaigns. The Timbers have scored the third-most goals across all MLS competitions this year (60), trailing only Sporting Kansas City (61) and the New England Revolution (65). Portland recorded its 10th clean sheet of the 2021 campaign across all MLS competitions, ranking fourth best in the club's history. Mabiala is the 14th different player to record a goal for the Timbers in an MLS competition this year, and 12th to register two or more.

- Portland has advanced to the Western Conference Final in four out of its seven postseason appearances (2013, 2015, 2018, 2021).
- Qualifying for playoffs in each of his four seasons with Portland, head coach Giovanni Savarese holds a playoff record of 5-3-2.
- Savarese has taken the Timbers to the Western Conference Final in two of his four playoff runs (2018, 2021).
- Portland registered its second shutout win in the club's MLS-era postseason history.
- The Timbers are 11-9-6 in MLS play, including playoffs, against the Rapids.
- Thursday's game marked the first playoff match between Portland and Colorado in the club's MLS era.
- The win marked Portland's first against the Rapids since Sept. 8, 2018.
- Mabiala scored for a second consecutive game, tallying his second goal of the year and his first career game winner.
- Mabiala has two career playoff goals with both coming in 2021.
- With 11 career goals for the Timbers (regular season, MLS is Back Tournament, and playoffs), Mabiala has the most goals of any defender in Portland's MLS era.
- The Timbers will face the winner of the Western Conference Semifinal match between Sporting Kansas City and Real Salt Lake on Nov. 28. If Real Salt Lake advances, Portland will host the Western Conference Final at Providence Park.

NOTABLE QUOTES

Portland Timbers head coach Giovanni Savarese
General thoughts on the match…

"Amazing day. First time that there is an MLS soccer match on Thanksgiving, and it felt great. A good atmosphere. Colorado, credit to them they are a very good team. It was a good match. Very tactical. Very close in every step and I felt that Colorado got the better of us in the first half. They found some spaces and we adjusted in the second half to close those spaces and be better with the ball with more patience. We knew we were going to find those moments to create opportunities either on set pieces or in the run of play. The most important thing was how we defended in the second half I thought we closed many of the things they were trying to do in the first half. Sometimes they succeeded in the first half, but in the second half the players performed at a high level to make sure that we got a very, very strong win that came in after a lot of work and unity and getting the guys recovered. It feels great. I feel very proud of this group. Unfortunately, Seba [Sebastián Blanco] how can we prevent that? It's very difficult, so we now we will evaluate and see where he is at but it doesn't look good. And unfortunately, at the end the reaction from [Dairon] Asprilla, I have to see it again, I just think that he tried to grab and definitely, probably something that we analyze a little bit better. A tremendous performance from the entire group. Credit to the staff and the fans from Portland that came in and cheered for the entire match and to everyone who worked very hard to make sure we got a very good result here. And [Larrys] Mabiala ultimately found the moment to be able to give us the very important win."

LAST TIME VS. REAL SALT LAKE

SANDY, Utah – The Portland Timbers secured the No. 4 seed in the 2021 Audi MLS Cup Playoffs with tonight's 3-1 victory over Real Salt Lake. Sebastián Blanco registered a brace and forced an own goal to go ahead by three in the first half. The Timbers will play their final match of the regular season on Sunday, Nov. 7 against Austin FC.

Portland Clinched Playoffs

With the win, Portland (16-13-4, 52pts) secured the No. 4 seed in the 2021 Audi MLS Cup Playoffs in the Western Conference and have earned a home playoff match. The Timbers clinched a spot in the playoffs on Tuesday, Nov. 2 after LAFC and Vancouver Whitecaps FC played to a 1-1 draw. It marks Portland's fifth consecutive trip to the playoffs, and the seventh time (2013, 2015, 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020, 2021) in the club's MLS history. Notably, head coach Giovanni Savarese has gone to the playoffs in each of his four seasons with the club and is the only head coach in Portland history to record consecutive postseason appearances. The Timbers play their regular-season finale against Austin FC on Nov. 7 at Providence Park.

Making Club History

Portland recorded its 16th victory of the 2021 campaign, the most wins in an MLS regular season in club history. Previously, the Timbers recorded a club-best 15 wins in the 2018, 2017, and 2015 campaigns.

Comeback Campaign

In his 23rd appearance (11th start) this season, Sebastián Blanco recorded a brace to help Portland clinch a home playoff match. Since returning from his ACL injury mid-season, Blanco has tallied six goals and six assists for the Timbers, including one game-winning goal and three game-winning assists.

Portland vs. Real Salt Lake

Tonight's match marked Portland's third consecutive win against Salt Lake, sweeping them in the 2021 campaign. The Timbers outscored RSL 12-4 this season.

TIMBERS IN THE PLAYOFFS

The Timbers advanced to the Western Conference Final after defeating the Colorado Rapids (No. 1 seed) 1-0 on Nov. 25. It marks Portland's fourth appearance in a conference final (2013, 2015, 2018, 2021). Qualifying for playoffs in each of his four seasons with Portland, head coach Giovanni Savarese holds a playoff record of 5-3-2. Notably, Savarese has taken the Timbers to the Western Conference Final in two of his four playoff runs (2018, 2021). In 22 all-time MLS playoff matches, Portland is 10-6-6 overall with a record of 4-2-4 at Providence Park.After being knocked out in the first rounds of the 2019 and 2020 playoffs, Portland advanced to the Western Conference semifinals after defeating Minnesota 3-1. It was also the club's first victory against Minnesota since 2018. The Timbers have advanced to the Western Conference semifinals four times in the club's seven postseason runs (2013, 2015, 2018, 2021), including MLS Cup appearances in 2015 and 2018. Portland's four Western Conference Final appearances in the last nine seasons is the second most appearances made by a team (Seattle Sounders, 5)

RECENT FORM

The Timbers are on a five-game winning streak dating back to a 2-0 regular-season win over San Jose on Oct. 27. During that stretch, Portland has recorded three shutout wins and has outscored its opponents 12-2. Larrys Mabiala has scored in back-to-back playoff matches, registering the game winner against Colorado. Since Oct. 27, Portland has conceded the least goals of any team in MLS (2). Additionally, six different players recorded at least one goal for the Timbers in that span (Asprilla, Blanco, D. Chara, Mabiala, Niezgoda, Paredes), and eight tallied an assist (Blanco, Bravo, Y. Chara, Mora, Moreno, Niezgoda, Paredes, Van Rankin).

SEASON-LONG DEPTH

In the 2021 campaign, eight Timbers players have missed at least 10 matches in the season due to injuries. Sebastian Blanco and Steve Clark missed 10 matches, as well as Claudio Bravo (11 matches), Jaroslaw Niezgoda (21 matches),and Cristhian Paredes (14 matches). Additionally, Eryk Williamson, Andy Polo, Ismaila Jome and Jeff Attinella suffered season-ending injuries this season. Despite the injury-related obstacles, the Timbers punched a ticket to their fourth Western Conference Final appearance and capped the regular season with its 17th victory of the 2021 campaign, setting a single-season club record in the MLS era. Previously, the Timbers recorded 15 wins in the 2018, 2017, and 2015 campaigns.

SAVARESE MAKING HISORY

For head coach Giovanni Savarese, the 2021 campaign was a historic season. Savarese led the team to 17 regular-season victories, setting a new club record for most wins in a single season. Since joining the club in 2018, the Caracas, Venezuela native has earned a spot in the playoffs for four consecutive seasons, the only head coach in Timbers' history to reach that achievement. Savarese capped the 2021 regular-season surpassing the Timbers' previous record of 15 wins in the 2018, 2017, and 2015 campaigns.

In a 2021 regular-season campaigns with highs and lows, Savarese and the Timbers finished fourth in the Western Conference and fifth overall with 55 points, trailing New England, Colorado, Seattle and Kansas City. Under Savarese's helm, the Timbers finished the season tied for third place with most goals scored in the league (56) behind just New England and Kansas City. Portland finished with the most home wins in the West (11) and tied for second-most home wins in the league behind New England (12).

SEASON LEADERS

Felipe Mora finished the regular season as Portland's leading goal scorer (11), followed closely by Dairon Asprilla (10). Asprilla was named the Supporters' Player of the Year. Sebastián Blanco and Yimmi Chara each tallied a team-best seven assists. Steve Clark registered seven shutouts, recording a new career best since joining Portland. Dario Zuparic led the team in minutes played (2,700) this season.

TIMBERS IN PLAYOFFS

In 22 all-time MLS playoff matches, the Timbers are 10-6-6 overall with a record of 6-4-2 on the road. With the win vs. Colorado, it marks the fourth time (2013, 2015, 2018, 2021) in seven postseasons the Timbers have advanced to the Western Conference Final. Head coach Giovanni Savarese has gone to the playoffs in each of his four seasons with the club and is the only head coach in Portland's MLS era to record consecutive postseason appearances. Additionally, this will mark Savarese's second Western Conference Final with the club. Mabiala recorded a goal in a second straight playoff match, tallying his first career game winner. Portland's four Western Conference Final appearances in the last nine seasons is the second most appearances made by a team (Seattle Sounders, 5). No other team besides Portland or Seattle in the Western Conference has multiple appearances in the past nine seasons.

MATCH PREVIEW

Real Salt Lake continues its historic Audi 2021 MLS Cup Playoff run this Saturday, December 4 at 4:30 p.m. MT on the road against Portland Timbers FC at Providence Park, as this Western Conference Final determines who will advance to MLS Cup 2021. For Real Salt Lake, the chance to play in the Club's third MLS Cup Final comes in the Claret-and-Cobalt's fifth all-time Conference Final appearance since joining MLS in 2005.

Head-to-Head: Real Salt Lake owns a 8-12-8 all-time regular season record against Portland Timbers, and a 2-6-6 record at Providence Park. However, RSL is undefeated against Portland in postseason play, winning all three previous MLS Cup Playoff contests between the two sides. In the Clubs' last postseason meeting, RSL won 2-1 at Rio Tinto Stadium over the Timbers in a 2019 Round One matchup. In that match, RSL MF Damir Kreilach saw his 28th-minute score cancelled early in the second half by Portland's Dairon Asprilla. RSL FW Jefferson Savarino struck the late game-winning goal in the 87th minute, RSL advancing to a West Semifinal in Seattle.

How We Got Here: Last Sunday, RSL continued its historic postseason run with a dramatic 2-1 win at rival Sporting Kansas City. After conceding a 24th-minute penalty, Manager Pablo Mastroeni's team clawed its way back into the match, first with a 72nd-minute goal from second-half substitute FW Anderson Julio, and advancing at the death with a stoppage-time game winner from FW Bobby Wood, assisted by another game-changing substitute, winger Justin Meram.

Real Salt Lake is unbeaten in four consecutive games on the road in recent weeks, riding a stoppage-time stunner in Kansas City on Decision Day to qualify for the Playoffs. Sunday's postseason win in Kansas City arrived on the heels of the team's shocking takedown of Seattle Sounders FC, surviving 120 scoreless minutes of regulation and extra time before advancing in penalty kicks. A dramatic sixth round save from GK David Ochoa preceded the clinching penalty from DF Justen Glad, the two homegrowns leading RSL to victory.

REAL SALT LAKE
2021 GAME NOTES

LAST MATCH RECAP

Real Salt Lake secured a place in the 2021 Audi MLS Cup Playoffs Western Conference Final next weekend at Portland with a dramatic come-from-behind 2-1 victory at Sporting Kansas City, with yet another last-minute goal from these Claret-and-Cobalt road warriors.

Second-half RSL substitutes Anderson Julio and Bobby Wood each scored in the second half to lift the team to victory, RSL now amassing 20 of its 57 goals this season after the 75th-minute.

Unlike Tuesday's match at Seattle, RSL came out as the aggressors, earning a majority of the possession and shots through the first 20 minutes, before an unfortunate tackle inside the box by Aaron Herrera saw Sporting Kansas City take the lead in the 24th minute off a penalty kick from Johnny Russell. Just prior to the PK, RSL had their best chance at goal, but a breaking Rubio Rubin caught a shove in the back and the ball bounced out the backline. For the remainder of the half the two sides traded opportunities, but neither was able to put one on frame, thus ending the first half 1-0 in Sporting KC's favor.

RSL nearly found the equalizer in the 66th minute when second-half substitute Justin Meram drove towards the endline, before cutting back for a pass to Damir Kreilach. Sporting Goalkeeper Tim Melia was able to save Kreilach's initial shot, but bobbled the ball, leaving space for Julio with an attempt to clean it up, but Melia was able to jump on top of it and end RSL's chance. Just a few minutes later, RSL finally found the equalizer when the team's second-half super substitute, Julio, found the end of a cross from Andrew Brody to level things at 1-1 in the 72nd minute.

In the dying moments of the match, Meram made a long run down the left side of the pitch that ended with a low cross into the box to Wood who was making a run toward the near post. Wood redirected the pass with a flick into the bottom-right corner of the far post to complete the comeback a minute into added time and send Real Salt Lake to the Western Conference Finals at Portland's Providence Park with a 2-1 victory.

2021 GAME NOTES

REAL SALT LAKE 2021 ROSTER NOTES

Last season, RSL failed to qualify for the 2020 Audi MLS Cup Playoffs and now in 2021, aims to return to the postseason with a re-tooled group of returning players and incoming players. Several new faces in attack and a leadership core in the locker room sets up the club to make its mark on MLS in 2021.

GOALKEEPERS:

Zac MacMath – 29 years old, 6'2", 190 pounds

- Recorded three clean sheets and finished with a record of 1-3-3 for Real Salt Lake in 2020.
- Spent four seasons, notched eight shutouts and recorded a 1.14 goals against average with the Colorado Rapids before signing with the Vancouver Whitecaps in 2019, where he went 1-3-4 and recorded a 1.63 goals against average.
- Drafted 5th overall in the 2011 MLS SuperDraft by the Philadelphia Union and posted a 34-39-29 record with 28 shutouts and a 1.37 goals against average in four seasons.

David Ochoa – 20 years old, 6'2", 174 pounds

- A standout of the RSL Academy program from 2016-2019, Ochoa became the youngest goalkeeper to debut at the USL level with a start for the Monarchs against Tampa Bay Rowdies on April 22, 2018
- Recorded 69 saves from 96 shots faced and four clean sheets in 2019 with the Monarchs, including 15 saves in four games throughout the Monarchs title-winning playoff run. Started all 20 of his appearances and recorded a 71.9 percent save rate
- Named to the final 20-man roster for the U.S. U-23 National Team for the 2020 CONCACAF Olympic Qualifying Tournament and recorded one clean sheet in three starts. Received his first call-up at the senior level for a friendly in December 2020.

Andrew Putna – 26 years old, 6'2", 180 pounds

- Has 56 saves and six shutouts in 22 appearances (21 starts) for Real Salt Lake.
