MATCH NOTES

- This matchup marks the 11th meeting between the two sides across all competitions since 2017, when Minnesota joined the MLS as an expansion side. Seattle holds a 8-1-1 record in the series, outscoring the Loons 21-7.
- In the lone postseason meeting between the clubs, Seattle defeated Minnesota 3-2 in the 2020 Western Conference Final, scoring three goals in the final 15 minutes of regulation to seal the come-from-behind victory.
- Seattle has a 2-1-1 record in Minnesota since 2017, with the lone loss coming last year on July 18 with a 1-0 scoreline, ending the Rave Green's MLS-record 13-match unbeaten streak to start the season.
- Minnesota United FC currently sits in third place in the Western Conference with eight points (2-0-2), with wins coming against the New York Red Bulls and San Jose Earthquakes, in addition to draws with Philadelphia and Nashville SC.
- In its last MLS match against Austin FC on March 20, Sounders FC midfielder Cristian Roldan bagged his sixth assist in all competitions this year. It was also his 34th assist in MLS regular season play for the Rave Green, tying him with Mauro Rosales for third all-time in club history.
- Sounders FC recorded it's 700th point in franchise history with its draw in Austin, 43 more points than any other club since 2009.
- Sounders FC is riding a four-match unbeaten streak (2-0-2) across all competitions.

SOUNDERS FC GAME NOTES

SEATTLE DRAWS WITH AUSTIN FC

Sounders FC drew 1-1 with Austin FC on March 20 at Q2 Stadium. Will Bruin scored the lone goal for the visitors, as the Rave Green concluded a two-match road trip that began with the second leg of the Scotiabank Concacaf Champions League Quarterfinals at Club León.

Bruin opened the scoring in the 43rd minute when João Paulo found Cristian Roldan in space on the right flank, with Roldan then sending in a low cross to Bruin for the tap-in from point-blank range. The helper was good for Roldan's sixth assist of year across all competitions.

Austin leveled the score in the 70th minute courtesy of Diego Fagúndez, after a ball was played into the area and deflected to his foot. Fagúndez was able to contort his body to convert the equalizer for the home side.

MATCH NOTES

- Sounders FC is now 1-2-1 on the season and 3-2-3 across all competitions in 2022.
- It marked Seattle's third all-time meeting against Austin FC after going 1-0-1 against the 2021 expansion side last year.
- Will Bruin recorded his first start and scored his first goal of the 2022 campaign. His 75 career strikes rank ninth among all MLS active players.
- Cristian Roldan's assist on Bruin's goal gives the midfielder a team-leading six helpers across all competitions this year (two in MLS play). With 34 career MLS regular-season assists, he ties Mauro Rosales for third in club history.
- João Paulo recorded his first assist of 2022 on Bruin's goal. The Brazilian led the club with 11 helpers in 2021.
- Stef Cleveland made his first start of 2022, replacing Stefan Frei (quad tendinitis) for the match and amassing seven saves over the course of the game. The 27-year-old started 15 regular-season appearances in 2021 while Frei was injured, allowing 17 goals and recording three shutouts.
- Head Coach Brian Schmetzer deployed a 4-2-3-1 formation to start the match, with four personnel changes from the March 17 contest at Club León: Stefan Cleveland, Obed Vargas, Léo Chú and Will Bruin replaced Stefan Frei, Kelyn Rowe, Jordan Morris and Fredy Montero.
- Due to injuries to Frei and Andrew Thomas, Tacoma Defiance goalkeeper Wallis Lapsley was on the bench via a Short Term Agreement, with Sounders FC qualifying for Extreme Hardship.
- Josh Atencio made his first appearance of the 2022 season after missing the first seven matches due to injury. The 20-year-old midfielder started 18 of his 24 appearances last season, tallying two assists.

SCCL SEMIFINALS DATES ANNOUNCED

Concacaf announced the dates and times for the 2022 Scotiabank Concacaf Champions League Semifinals. Sounders FC is set to face fellow MLS side NYCFC for the right to advance to the tournament Championship, with the first leg of the Semifinals taking place in Seattle at Lumen Field on Wednesday, April 6 in a 7:00 p.m. PT kickoff. The away leg is being played on Wednesday, April 13 at Red Bull Arena in Harrison, New Jersey with a 6:00 p.m. PT kickoff.

With the addition of these matches to its slate, Sounders FC is rescheduling its April 9 MLS home contest vs. FC Cincinnati. The two clubs are working together to confirm an alternate date and further information is forthcoming.

The Rave Green defeated Liga MX's Club León 4-1 on aggregate in the Scotiabank Concacaf Champions League Quarterfinals, advancing to the Semifinals following a 3-0 home victory on March 8 and a 1-1 draw at Estadio León on March 17.

Seattle is competing in its seventh Concacaf Champions League tournament, which crowns the best team from North America, Central America and the Caribbean. Sounders FC has advanced to at least the Quarterfinals in five of its seven appearances, with this year's appearance in the Semifinals marking just the second time Sounders FC has advanced to the tournament's penultimate round, having also done so in 2012-2013. The Rave Green look to defeat NYCFC on their way to the club's first appearance in the Concacaf Champions League Final, with the winner going on to represent the confederation in the FIFA Club World Cup.

CINCINNATI MATCHUP RESCHEDULED

Sounders FC announced that its home match vs. FC Cincinnati at Lumen Field has been moved to Tuesday, September 27 (7:00 p.m. PT / FOX 13+, Prime Video, iHeartMedia, El Rey 1360 AM). Previously scheduled for April 9, the match was rescheduled following Sounders FC's advancement to the 2022 Scotiabank Concacaf Champions League Semifinals and adding two fixtures to its schedule this month.

Tickets for the originally scheduled match on April 9 are valid for September 27. With all tickets being digital, the new match details are being updated automatically in each person's account manager system. Fans can still purchase tickets for this contest via SoundersFC.com/Tickets.

This marks the second all-time meeting between the two sides after Seattle defeated Cincinnati 4-1 in the latter's inaugural MLS match on March 2, 2019.

DEFIANCE OPENS SEASON WITH A WIN

Tacoma Defiance (1-0-0, 3 points) defeated Real Monarchs (0-1-0, 0 points) 4-0 at Starfire Stadium on March 27. Alfonso Ocampo-Chavez recorded a brace with Dylan Teves and Samuel Adeniran adding goals as Tacoma kicked off its inaugural MLS NEXT Pro season.

In a match that featured eight Sounders FC First Team players, Ocampo-Chavez provided the first goal of the match in the 40th minute when Teves put a cross into the area for a deflected header off the goalkeeper's glove and into the back of the net. It was the striker's first goal for the club after going on loan to Austrian side Pinzgau Saalfelden last year.

Teves doubled the lead for the home side in the 49th minute after Reed Baker-Whiting maneuvered through the area and slid a ball to the University of Washington product, who was able to finish it from close range. Ocampo-Chavez completed his brace in the 86th minute, when Randy Mendoza sent a cross in from the left flank that found the head of the Merced, California native, who made the score 3-0. Adeniran, who led Defiance with 13 goals in 2021, finished off a one-on-one effort in the 92nd minute to cap off the 4-0 scoreline. Goalkeeper Stef Cleveland kept a clean sheet, making four saves throughout the match.

SOUNDERS FC GAME NOTES

RAVE GREEN ANNOUNCE 2022 BROADCAST SCHEDULE

Seattle Sounders FC announced on February 25 its complete regional broadcast details for the 2022 Major League Soccer season. Fans of the club can continue to follow the Rave Green through one of the most diverse slates in Major League Soccer, as Seattle maintains its relationships with all of its existing regional television, streaming and radio partners.

In regional television, the club's home remains FOX 13 (KCPQ Channel 13) and FOX 13+ (KZJO cable 10 / Channel 22), seeing FOX 13+ return as the primary television home for regional broadcasts of the Rave Green throughout Western Washington for the fifth straight season. All home and away Sounders FC matches for non-nationally televised broadcasts are available to in-market fans, with FOX 13 carrying four contests and FOX 13+ carrying the remainder of the schedule. FOX 13 and FOX 13+ continue to provide both a 30-minute pre-match show and 30-minute post-match wrap-up following each game.

FOX 13 is also carrying several Sounders FC specials during the 2022 season, including a Sounders FC Matchday program airing on FOX 13+ at 4:00 p.m. PT Sunday, February 27 ahead of the club's opening MLS Regular Season match vs. Nashville SC. Additionally, FOX 13 is profiling the team during its weekly Seattle Sports Live sportscast, which airs Sundays at 11:00 p.m. PT on KCPQ following the flagship FOX 13 News at 10. Dating back to the first year of the partnership between the Rave Green and KCPQ in 2014, Sounders FC's regional broadcast ratings have led Major League Soccer each season, a hallmark of the continuing relationship between the two organizations.

Prime Video continues as Seattle's official video streaming home in 2022, following a landmark agreement in 2020 that saw Sounders FC become the first professional soccer club to team up with the streaming service, as well as just the second sports franchise for which Prime Video secured regional broadcast rights (following Major League Baseball's New York Yankees).

Prime Video is the exclusive streaming destination for the Rave Green, with all regionally televised Sounders FC MLS matches available on Prime Video to fans with a Prime membership throughout the entire state of Washington at no additional cost. Sounders FC's regional broadcast territory extends throughout the entirety of Washington State – inclusive of the traditional Seattle-Tacoma-Everett television DMA and key population centers like Spokane, Yakima, Tri-Cities and Vancouver, Washington – allowing fans everywhere in the Evergreen State the opportunity to watch the Rave Green via Prime Video. Stream from the web or using the Prime Video app on your smartphone, tablet, set-top box, game console, or select smart TV.

New in 2022, fans accessing Sounders FC matches through Prime Video can watch the games in native 1080p / full HD resolution streaming content, the highest standard in the broadcasting and streaming industry.

Additionally, fans accessing the Rave Green through Prime Video can find club-specific content available via the dedicated Sounders FC team page, which houses live and archived regional Sounders FC matches, highlights, player interviews, press conferences and more.

Keith Costigan, Kasey Keller and Steve Zakuani all return to the booth in 2022, reprising their roles from past seasons. In his seventh year with Sounders FC, Costigan is once again set to call regional matches for the Rave Green, while maintaining his national duties with FOX Sports. Former MLS Sounders Keller and Zakuani return to their analyst duties, as the former United States Men's National Team goalkeeper and the 2009 first overall SuperDraft selection are set to work alongside a choice selection of rotating pre-match, halftime and post-match talent. Among this group are former Sounders Brad Evans, Marcus Hahnemann, James Riley and Lamar Neagle, as well as fan favorite and former FOX 13 sports reporter Michelle Ludkta, who returns this season to host home match coverage.

In radio, Sounders FC continues its flagship partnership with iHeartMedia Seattle for the fifth-consecutive season. All home and away Sounders FC MLS matches are being carried on Sports Radio 950 KJR AM or 1090 KJR AM, including a dedicated 30-minute pregame and 30-minute postgame show surrounding each contest. Additionally, the station is continuing its hour-long Sounders Weekly program, hosted by Jackson Felts and airing at 7:00 p.m. PT every Tuesday evening throughout the season, while Head Coach Brian Schmetzer joins Dave "Softy" Mahler and Dick Fain every Tuesday evening live at 5:45 p.m. PT.

"We couldn't be prouder to continue bringing Sounders FC fans yet another season of club programming on Sports Radio KJR," said Rich Moore, Senior Vice President of Programming for iHeartMedia Seattle. "The Rave Green's supporters are unmatched in their passion for the club, and we're excited for them to continue listening to all the action on 950 KJR AM, 1090 KJR AM and the iHeartRadio App."

Introduced last season and continuing in 2022, match action audio for regionally televised games is being simulcast between television and radio, with radio listeners able to take advantage of the exceptional crew that the Rave Green has in Costigan, Keller and Zakuani. For nationally televised matches, the trio is calling Sounders FC games exclusively for the radio broadcast. As mentioned above, dedicated pregame and postgame shows continue to bracket every radio broadcast, with Jackson Felts leading those efforts and working alongside Pete Fewing, Danny Jackson and Diego Arriola.

The club also continues its partnership with El Rey 1360 AM as the Spanish-language home for Sounders FC matches in 2022. With play-by-play voice "Zuper" Mario Rodríguez alongside Carlos Tapia and Felipe Maqueda on the call, El Rey 1360 AM is set to carry all 34 Sounders FC matches during the 2022 regular season. El Rey 1360 AM also offers 30-minute pre-match and post-match shows as part of its matchday coverage, as well as a 30-minute weekly radio show, Somos Sounders FC. The latter is hosted by Felipe Maqueda, and he is joined by Carolina Antipolo, Carlos Tapia and Marlo Vilela, airing Saturday mornings at 10:30 a.m. PT.

In addition, Sounders FC is in active conversations with longtime partner Univision-Seattle (KUNS-TV) to air a select number of match broadcasts and Sounders FC Fútbol en Vivo programs throughout the year. More information will be released in the coming weeks.

SOUNDERS FC ANNOUNCES NEW TRAINING CENTER AT LONGACRES

In a landmark announcement, Seattle Sounders FC revealed on February 16 plans for the development of a new state-of-the-art home in Renton, Washington. Located on the site of Boeing's former corporate headquarters at the historic Longacres, the new home of the Rave Green is set to provide a world-class sporting facility for Major League Soccer's winningest team over the past decade, housing the club's entire soccer and business ecosystem for the first time in Sounders FC history.

Known as the Sounders FC Center at Longacres, the club is working in partnership with Seattle-based Unico Properties on the expansive project, with an expected opening in 2024. Inclusive of four full-size training pitches and 50,000 square feet of space for both the club's soccer operations and front office personnel, the facility ushers in a new era for Sounders FC as the club readies for its 50th anniversary in two years' time. Since entering MLS in 2009, the club has trained at Starfire Sports in Tukwila. The announcement was revealed earlier today at the club's new Longacres home in front of assembled media, with representatives from Sounders FC and Unico appearing alongside King County Executive Dow Constantine and Renton Mayor Armondo Pavone.

As part of the club's March to the 50th – Sounders FC's official celebration of its 50th anniversary in 2024 – the Rave Green also announced plans to recognize its heritage and vision for the future during today's proceedings. Sounders FC's fans are at the heart of everything the club does – from the original naming of the organization to voting on the team's General Manager every four years – and over the coming weeks, fan outreach is taking place to explore the club's brand identity with the next 50 years in mind. Fully grounded in the club's ethos of Democracy in Sports, further details of this process are outlined below.

"Today is one of the most important moments in our club's history, as we begin this new partnership with Unico Properties and take our first steps into the future of Seattle Sounders FC," said Sounders FC Majority Owner Adrian Hanauer. "Our organization has invested a great deal of time and thoughtfulness into the process of both selecting the ideal site for a new home and reimagining what that home represents, for our team and the greater community. With Longacres, we've found a location brimming with Pacific Northwest history where the Sounders – a team that brings its own deep roots, growing since 1974 – can plant our flag and create a home for our next 50 years. We're excited to work with terrific partners in Unico and the City of Renton as this project comes to life, and our club fully embraces the stewardship of managing an important historical site like Longacres."

Hanauer continues, "I would also like to thank Starfire Sports and the City of Tukwila. Sounders FC has always been a community club, and, over the years, that has been exemplified by team's place at Starfire, a true hub and gathering place for soccer in our region. We're grateful to Starfire – and the welcoming spirit of Tukwila – for serving as the home of the Rave Green and seeing us through some incredible successes. While the time has come for Sounders FC to move into its own facility, Starfire Sports and Tukwila will always be close to our hearts and a part of our history."

"We are excited by the opportunity to anchor this storied property with the Seattle Sounders," said Unico Properties Chief Investment Officer Ned Carner. "We could not be more excited to partner with a group like the Sounders that shares in our mission to create a project that builds up the surrounding community, while also enhancing the lives of the people that choose to live and work at Longacres for years to come."

As part of the club's commitment to sustainability within Sounders FC's Social Justice Framework, best-in-class environmentally friendly building systems and infrastructure are being utilized throughout the Sounders FC Center at Longacres. The design process is headed by Kansas City-based Generator Studio, a leading firm in the sports design and architecture world. Recently, Generator oversaw the creation of the Seattle Kraken's Community Iceplex in Northgate, in addition to recent projects for the NWSL's Kansas City Current, the Tampa Bay Lightning and St. Louis Blues of the NHL, along with the NBA's Brooklyn Nets.

"The Sounders' legacy and fandom is unequalled in MLS, and our office is ready for the challenge of helping the club elevate what a modern MLS training center means," said Generator Studio co-founder Tom Proebstle. "The Sounders FC Center at Longacres will provide space for operations and training to be under one roof, bringing players, staff and community together."

Generator Studio co-founders Proebstle and Mike Kress have been working on Seattle sports venues since 1998, beginning with the design of Lumen Field while at their former architecture firm AECOM. Following their work on Lumen Field, Proebstle and Kress were instrumental in the design and construction of the Virginia Mason Athletic Center for the NFL's Seattle Seahawks while at Crawford Architects. Since founding Generator Studio, multiple sports projects have culminated in the grand opening of the Kraken Community Iceplex, providing the first sheet of ice in the city of Seattle in modern times.

Central to the combined vision of Sounders FC, Unico and Generator Studio is a team-first design layout that is truly built around the holistic needs of the entire Rave Green organization. In the coming months, further specifics of the design process will be publicly shared, with amenities that showcase Sounders FC's new home as one of the top sporting facilities in North America, and one that allows for deeper connection with the club's fans, supporters and partners.

With 2024 on the horizon, the club is not only opening the Sounders FC Center at Longacres that year, it is also celebrating its 50th anniversary as part of the greater Puget Sound community. A major milestone for the organization, the club's March to the 50th is intended as a two-year rallying cry for both celebrating that unique history while also casting an eye to the future.

Sounders fans named the original 1974 North American Soccer League team, again choosing the same team name in 2008 prior to the club's launch in Major League Soccer, winning by an overwhelming majority via write-in option. Since joining MLS, the club has worked shoulder-to-shoulder with its Alliance Members – as Sounders FC season ticket holders are known – working on everything together from the club's General Manager vote, Alliance Annual Business Meetings and kit designs for the players. This Democracy in Sports ethos runs throughout the entire organization, and as the club prepares for its future and explores its brand and visual identities, Sounders FC is beginning the process of reaching out to its fan base to begin an open dialogue.

LAST TIME OUT | Minnesota United FC vs. San Jose Earthquakes | March 19, 2022 | Allianz Field, Saint Paul, Minnesota | MLS Regular Season

Amarilla Gets Another

After standing on his head and making eight saves in a spectacular performance to help the Loons take all three points last week against the New York Red Bulls, Dayne St. Clair made a second consecutive start in net for Minnesota United FC as the Loons hosted the San Jose Earthquakes at Allianz Field. Luis Amarilla's 36th minute tap-in proved to be the difference on the night, and just over an hour later, the Loons had three more points in the standings and Wonderwall was sung at Allianz Field for the first time this season.

Return from International Break to Host the Sounders

The Loons return from the international break and ready to hit the ground running in a matchup against the Seattle Sounders at home. In the ten times MNUFC and the Seattle Sounders have met in MLS, the Loons have only ever been able to best the Sounders once, last July, thanks to a Robin Lod goal in the 81st minute to seal a 1-0 win over the boys from the Emerald City. Currently, the Sounders are ranked 11th in the West with one win, two losses and a single draw to their name. MNUFC, on the other hand, maintains one of the few remaining undefeated records in the league, earning them 3rd place in the West. Will the Loons be able to maintain their undefeated record or will the Sounders come out to St. Paul and continue to take down the Loons as they have in years past?

MINNESOTA CONNECTIONS

•The first connection notes an absence rather than a presence. This will only be the second time that Seattle and Minnesota have met in a match in which Ozzie Alonso will not play. Alonso missed the second matchup between the two teams in 2017, but played for one team or the other in every other matchup, captaining both sides on multiple occasions.

•Sounders midfielder Kelyn Rowe and MNUFC Swiss-Army Knife, Hassani Dotson, both hail from Federal Way, Washington.

•MNUFC Technical Director, Mark Watson, played for Seattle during its USL days, donning the Sounders green in 1997.

•Tyler Miller was in the Sounders FC organization from 2015 through 2017. He started his tenure with Sounders FC 2 and backed up Stefan Frei on the first team in his final two seasons with the club. You can hear Miller discuss his time in Seattle, along with many other interesting topics, in this recent episode of Sound of the Loons.

•In 2004, Seattle Sounders Assistant Coach Freddy Juarez played on the Minnesota Thunder with MNUFC Director of Player Personnel Amos Magee. In 2006, he was on the Thunder's roster alongside Brian Kallman, the brother of current Loon Brent Kallman.

MATCHUP QUICK FACTS

The aggregate score in games between Minnesota and Seattle (regular season and postseason combine) is 21-7 in favor of Seattle.

However, Minnesota has scored points in each of their last two matchups with the Sounders at Allianz Field. They drew in May 2019 and won in July 2021.

Of Minnesota's seven goals scored in the matchup, five have been scored between the 16th and 30th minute of games.

Of Seattle's 21 goals scored in the matchup, a whopping 12 have been scored in the last half hour of games, including seven after the 76th minute.

Seattle has just four points through their first four MLS fixtures; that's their worst start to a season since 2018 (0-1-3, 1 pt). The Sounders have notched fewer than four points in their first four games in just three seasons since they joined MLS in 2009 (2013, 2016, 2018).

Both Seattle and Minnesota have scored just four goals through their first four games; only four teams in all of MLS have scored fewer (Houston, Nashville, Vancouver and Miami).

Conversely, MNUFC have allowed a mere two goals through their first four contests, tied for second best in MLS (alongside Philadelphia and LAFC, and trailing only Chicago, who have allowed 1 score thus far).

The Sounders have committed just 36 fouls all season, good for second fewest in the league.

Minnesota is one of the four best teams in the league at not being caught offside; the Loons have been whistled for offside a paltry three times so far.

Seattle has the fourth-smallest number of passes in the opponent's half through four games in MLS action (521). For comparison, Minnesota is 18th in the league with 666, and Kansas City leads the league with almost 1,100 such passes.

Luis Amarilla is the only player for either team with multiple goals on the season, with Seattle's four goals spread across four different players (Xavier Arreaga, Will Bruin, Fredy Montero, Jordan Morris).

Against San Jose, Wil Trapp had a 92.3% pass completion rate — the only Minnesota starter to break the 90% mark.

Luis Amarilla accumulated 1.01 xG in the San Jose match, more than all other Minnesota players combined.

Seattle has trailed in xG at the end of all four of their matches played so far this season.

Against Austin, not only did João Paulo have the assist on the Sounders one goal, but he also had more tackles won (3) than the entire rest of his team combined.

MINNESOTA UNITED NEWS AND NOTES

MNUFC2 Drops Opener to North Texas SC 3-1

In their inaugural match as an MLS NEXT Pro club, MNUFC2 fell to North Texas SC 3-1 in a road contest that saw the two squads battle tightly for 75 minutes before North Texas broke it open with a pair of late goals.

Coming into the season-opening affair, both clubs admitted to not knowing entirely what to expect as they entered a brand-new developmental league in which teams would try to find the right balance of developing young talent, giving minutes to first-team reserves and providing opportunities for second-team players to shine, all while trying to put a competitive product out on the pitch.

Head Coach Adrian Heath on what training has looked like with the group of players here

"We had a really tough middle of the week last week on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday and we gave them Friday, Saturday, and Sunday off so we have gradually ramped it up this week. The lads are in good condition. The atmosphere is really good, as you would expect. Four games no defeats, but as per usual, Seattle Sounders are coming to town. Whatever team they put out, is going to be really competitive. I have a great amount of time for them as an organization. I've got a great amount of time for Schemtz [Brian Schmetzer] and his staff. And I know whichever team, there's been talk about it, they've played five of their academy kids last year and got a result in Austin. Regardless of what their team, what they put out, we know it's going to be tough at the weekend."

Midfielder Wil Trapp on how the group can find the goals

"It's situations where, if you look at the San Jose game just recency bias, is the fact that we're in good positions. We're getting the chances, it's just now that last little final ball, the moment of quality. But more importantly and impressively, we've found ways to get shutouts and that's super important too. Even if it's just one goal, I think we've shown through our backline and how we're defending that we're keeping the ball out of the net. When you do that, you still find ways to win games."

Defender Michael Boxall on the success of the defense given the many changes to the backline

"It feels pretty comfortable. It's felt comfortable most of the games. Everyone that's come in, we've all played together and whatnot or the players that have come in, have shown their quality, their experience. Now that we have the confidence that we have the depth that we have, and everyone is familiar with their roles, I think we're good. It helped massively that we've got the engine group in front of us that do the work they do as well."

Minnesota United Announce MNUFC2 Roster for Inaugural MLS NEXT Pro Season

MNUFC2 announced the club's roster for the inaugural MLS Next PRO season. In addition to Emanuel Iwe, Jason Ramos, CC Uche and Tommy Williamson, the club has signed midfielders Nick Mendonca, Diogo Pacheco and Veljko Petković, and goalkeeper Alec Smir to an MLS NEXT Pro professional contract, pending league and U.S. Soccer Federation approval.

MNUFC2 will be coached by Cameron Knowles. Additionally, the club has brought on Jeremy Hall and Jonathan Barber as MNUFC2 assistant coach and goalkeeper coach for the 2022 season.

ABOUT MAJOR LEAGUE SOCCER

Minnesota United FC plays in North America's top professional soccer league, Major League Soccer (MLS). The league features 27 teams from across the United States and Canada.

After a successful bid to host the FIFA World Cup in 1994, the United States Soccer Federation (USSF) founded MLS to bring a top-level soccer league back to the country for the first time since 1984, when the original NASL folded. The league was set to begin play in 1996 with 10 teams: Colorado Rapids, Columbus Crew (SC), D.C. United, Dallas Burn (FC Dallas), Kansas City Wiz (Sporting Kansas City), Los Angeles Galaxy, New England Revolution, NY/NJ MetroStars (New York Red Bulls), San Jose Clash (Earthquakes) and Tampa Bay Mutiny.

The league's first game was played on April 6, 1996 as the San Jose Clash played D.C. United in front of 31,000 fans at Spartan Stadium. The league drew large crowds in its opening season, pulling star power from around North America and building on the excitement of the 1994 FIFA World Cup.

As MLS has continued to grow, clubs have begun moving out of shared American football venues and into soccer-specific stadium, led by Columbus Crew (SC), who moved into the soccer-specific MAPFRE Stadium in 1999. Currently, 20 teams play in soccer-specific venues.

The league is split into the Eastern and Western Conferences. Each team plays 34 games during the season. Teams play all conference opponents twice, once at home and once on the road, and teams in the other conference once, with an even balance of home and away games. The top seven teams in each conference at the end of the year qualify for the MLS Cup Playoffs.

Starting in 2019, the league adopted a new single-elimination format for the entirety of the MLS Cup Playoffs. The top seven teams in each conference qualify for postseason, with the regular-season conference champions receiving a first-round bye. The second through seventh seeds will play the opening round games, with the highest seed hosting games throughout the tournament. The winners will move on to join the one-seed teams in the conference semifinals. The winner of each conference championship will move on to the MLS Cup Final. The team with the best regular season record will host the final.

IAN FULLER | ASSISTANT COACH

Fuller is heading into his sixth season as an assistant coach for Minnesota United. In 2010, his first year as a player-assistant coach, he helped lead the Charleston Battery to become regular season and playoff champions in USL-2. Fuller joined Orlando City of USL PRO the following year, winning two championships and two Commissioner's Cups in three years. He transitioned to being a full-time coach in 2014 and remained with the club during its first MLS season in 2015. Fuller first joined MNUFC's coaching staff in 2016 as an assistant and was reunited with Heath for the 2017 MLS season.

SEAN MCAULEY | ASSISTANT COACH

McAuley heads into his second season with MNUFC after two seasons with Orlando City SC as an assistant coach and six with Portland Timbers, where he helped guide the Timbers to the 2015 MLS Cup championship. The Englishman began his coaching career in 2006 at for the academy at English side Sheffield Wednesday F.C. for seven years. Wednesday's academy developed several players that went on to sign for the first team under his guidance. Before becoming a coach, McAuley enjoyed a 15-year professional playing career. A Manchester United youth product, McAuley made his professional debut for St. Johnstone in the Scottish Premiership. McAuley played 16 games for the Timbers in 2002 while the club was in the lower division before retiring in 2005.

STEWART KERR | GOALKEEPER COACH

Kerr heads into his second season with MNUFC after spending two seasons with Western Conference side Vancouver Whitecaps and four seasons of additional MLS coaching experience. The native of Bellshill, Scotland, began his coaching career in his home country, working with Airdrie United during the 2008-09 Scottish First Division season, then moved to Motherwell FC in the Scottish Premier League from 2009 to 2011. As a player, Kerr began playing professionally at 18-years-old with Scottish Premier League giants Celtic FC, later going on to play with English clubs Swindon Town, Brighton & Hove Albion and Wigan Athletic.
